

Furniture and Technology Solutions for 9-1-1/Emergency Operations Center

The ergonomic approach to designing consoles into the layout of a control room should contribute to achieving the performance objective established for the space in question. JEM focuses on every aspect of interaction between human, machine and the environment from the raised flooring, the lighting, to the overall well-being, health and safety of each operator. JEM also provides power for Emergency Operations Centers and is a vendor on the MIDEAL contract for power and cooling.
